Biographical Note

Harry T. Fultz was a soldier in the American Expeditionary Forces who fought during World War I. He was a member of the U.S. Field Artillery Reserve and served with the 146th. His scrapbook suggests he had ties to both Chicago and Pittsburgh. In 1917, he was sent to Fort Sheridan for training, and was then moved overseas to fight in and travel through France, and then on to Germany in 1918.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The Harry T. Fultz Collection includes types of materials related to the military service of Fultz in the U.S.F.A. during World War I.

Arrangement

The collection arrived in a scrapbook put together by the creator. Original order has been maintained. The collection consists of one series:

Series One: Scrapbook

A scrapbook created during World War I by Harry T. Fultz that includes photographs, passages and poems of America, his travel in Europe due to his fighting in the war, and an addendum written in 1957.

Rights

Copyrights held by Dave Fultz were transferred to the Pritzker Military Museum & Library. All other rights are held by the author or publisher. Users assume responsibility for following copyright laws as established by US Code Title 17.
