Biographical Note

Edward P. Gralak was born in 1918 to Frank (a Polish immigrant) and Anna (née Dudkiawicz) Gralak. He was raised in Calumet City, Illinois.

Gralak enlisted in the United States Army in November 1942, and was assigned to the Signal Corps at Camp Sheridan, IL. He began his training as radio operator in Camp Crowder, MO, where he stayed until late February 1943. He completed his training as radio operator at Fort Monmouth, NJ, in June 1943. Gralak was then stationed at Fort Monmouth in the 822nd Fixed Radio Company until late August 1943. Then, Gralak was sent to Washington D.C. to work as radio operator in the recently built Pentagon. He returned to New Jersey by the end of November 1943 but this time to be stationed at Camp Edison in Sea Gird. In February 1944, Gralak was sent to Camp Anza, California, for a period of two weeks in preparation to be sent overseas. Then, the USS Mount Vernon transferred the 3150th Signals Corps Company to New Dehli, India, where Gralak stayed until November 1945, except for two periods of time in Karachi (today's Pakistan), three weeks as detached service and another month while waiting to be shipped to the US. He returned to the US on the USS General R.E Callan, arriving at Seattle, WA on January 29, 1946.

Edward P. Galak resided in Calumet City, Illinois, until his death on April 4, 1994.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The two most abundant materials in the Galak collection are letters and photographs that Edward P. Galak sent during World War II to his mother, Anna Galak, and his married older sisters Cecilia "Ceil" Jeneck, Alice Godsell, and Eleanor Kirby, all of them living in Calumet City, Illinois. Galak served in the US Army Signal Corps and was stationed in Illinois, New Jersey, Washington D.C., and New Delhi, India, between 1942 and early 1946.

Arrangement

The collection is divided in three series. Within each series, the items are arranged chronologically into 1 legal box and 1 oversize box.

Series One: Miscellaneous, 1942-1947, n.d. Box 1

Series one contains a mixture of ephemera and military records, the most remarkable being the booklet from the USS General R.E. Callan for the veterans going home with a description of nuclear power, jokes, and orders.

Series Two: Letters, 1942-1946, n.d. Box 1-2

Sgt. Galak wrote the vast majority of the letters in this series, including those to his mother, Anna Galak, and married siblings, Cecilia Jeneck, Alice Godsell, and Eleanor Kirby. There is a small number of letters and postcards received by Mrs. Galak and the Jenecks during the same period of time.

Series Three: Photographs, 1943-1944, n.d. Box 2

Most of these photographs were taken in India by Sgt. Galak between March of 1944, when he arrived in Calcutta, and December of 1945 when he departed from Karachi (today Pakistan). These photographs depict daily life in India, sites Sgt. Galak visited, friends, and radio operator equipment.
