PRITZKER MILITARY LIBRARY HOSTS BEST SELLING AUTHOR SCOTT TUROW

Chicago Author Scott Turow to Discuss and Sign "Ordinary Heroes"

Chicago, IL, (May XX 2006) – The Pritzker Military Library (www.pritzkermilitarylibrary.org) today announced it will be hosting a discussion and book signing event on Scott Turow's Ordinary Heroes. The event will take place at the Pritzker Military Library, 610 N. Fairbanks Ct., 2nd Fl. May 10, 2006, beginning with 5:00 p.m. a complimentary reception and book signing and 6:00 p.m. live web cast and presentation.

Scott Turow is the author of six bestselling novels about the law including the acclaimed Presumed Innocent, his recent Reversible Errors and the non fiction works One L (1988) and Ultimate Punishment, all published by Farrar, Straus and Giroux.

In Ordinary Heroes, Turow explores the moral and ethical search for truth by a son who traces the agonizing choices a father faced on the battlefield, in the courtroom, and in love during World War II.

"The Pritzker Military Library is thrilled to be able to host Scott Turow" commented Ed Tracy, Executive Director of Pritzker Military Library. "Ordinary Heroes is a compelling and revealing story not only for its dramatic portrayal of 20th century military combat, but also as a study of the ravaging inner conflict of those who served."

Admission is free, but space is limited. For reservations, call 312.587.0234 or click here to email us. Book will be on sale courtesy of the Book Stall at Chestnut Court. For more information on the event: www.pritzkermilitarylibrary.org/events/2006-05-10-scottTurow.jsp
